

(a) consequential decisions committed silently

(b) the two errors trade off against each other

